Acc. No. 2025 LANCASHIRE AND CHESHIRE JOINT (MINES) COMMITTEES AND MISCELLANEOUS TRADE UNION RECORDS

D/DZ A48 LANCASHIRE AND CHESHIRE JOINT COMMITTEE

Under the coal mines minimum wage act (1912), a Lancashire and Cheshire Joint District Board was set up consisting of an equal number of representatives of coalowners and miners. For further information, see D/DZ A48 1/1; also see H. Stanley Jevons "The British Coal Trade".

The board sought to regulate working conditions and wages (as a Joint wages Board); wage levels were based on ascertainment of production statistics and profits made.

It had a Joint Welfare Committee which ran the Blackpool Miners' Convalescent Home through a Board of Management and House Committee, and also dealt with other aspects of miners' welfare.

CLAPPERTON PAPERS

D/DZ A55 These records were donated by Mr. G. Clapperton of Laburnum Mill, Atherton. His father had been closely associated with the Howe Bridge Mills of the Howe Bridge Cotton Spinning Company, and he was behind the refloating of the company as the Howe Bridge Cotton Spinning Co. (1920) Ltd.

In 1929, the company, along with many others, was amalgamated into a combine of mills in the Leigh, Manchester and Bolton areas known as Combined Egyptian Mills, later known as Combined English Mills, whose headquarters was in Atherton. In the 1960's this combine was taken over by Viyella International, later Carrington Viyella.

The following records were kept at Laburnum Mill, as were many records of the constituent companies of Carrington Viyella; the latter collection has been transferred to the Lancashire Record Office.

DIARY OF ROGER LOWE OF ASHTON-IN-MAKERFIELD

Roger Lowe was born in 1642 and was indentured as an apprentice to an unknown mercer of Leigh working in the latter's shop in Ashton. After nine years, Lowe took over the business from his master, but in 1667 sold the shop and went back into service with a Warrington bookseller. He married Emma Potter in 1668.

The diary has been published in full: W.L. Sachse ed., The Diary of Roger Lowe (Longman 1938). A MS. Transcript is also available: see acc.. 1972
