[The Hertford educational charity which became known as the Green Coat School was established in 1760 from funds provided by Alderman Gabriel Newton of Leicester and administered by the Mayor and Corporation of Hertford. From 1839 it was administered together with Butteris' Charity and Hale's School Endowment Fund (both also previously run by the Mayor and Corporation of Hertford) by the newly formed Trustees of the Hertford Municipal Charities. When the Green Coat School closed in 1895, the Newton Exhibition Foundation (to which the Trustees of the Hertford Municipal Charities nominated 3 of the 11 Governors) was set up to distribute the Charity's income to provide grants to scholars to be known as Newton Scholars and Costeker Exhibitioners. (A new scheme for the distribution of the Foundation's income was introduced in 1979 which has considerably broadened the uses to which the funds may be put.) The administration of Butteris' Charity was passed from the Hertford Municipal Charities to Christ's Hospital in 1887 and that of Hale's School Endowment Fund removed in 1930 to a new body known as the Governors of Hertford Grammar School Endowment Fund (to which the Trustees of the Hertford Municipal Charities nominated 2 of the Governors).]
