INTRODUCTION TO CORRESPONDENCE

The Herts. & Essex Observer was founded in 1861, less than a decade after the repeal of the tax on newspaper advertising (1853) gave a great stimulus to the local press. The material dealt with in this list falls into two categories: (1) letters concerning advertisements, including the texts of the advertisements themselves, and letters to the Editor, during the first decade or so of the paper's existence; and (2) printing specimens (posters, cards, etc.) from the office of H. Collings & Co., printers, and publishers of the Observer, during the same period.

It was handed to the Local History Society for preservation in recent years, and was sorted and listed, 1968-9 by two Committee members, Mrs. W. E. B. Ewbank, B.A., and Mr. G. Stew, under the supervision of Mr. R. A. Storey, of the staff of the Historical Manuscripts Commission and a member of the Society. The papers were in poor physical condition, due to long exposure to the atmosphere and to dust, and to the high acid content of much of the paper, and many of the original bundles of correspondence had broken up. Those that remained were retained, and loose MSS. have, where possible, been grouped by month.

Most of the information in the correspondence will presumably appear in the contemporary columns of the Observer, but the methods of insertion (often through local or national agents) are of some interest, and the letters (some with informative letter-headings or illustrations; and others in illiterate hands) have a certain intrinsic interest. Their subjects reflect the economic and social life of a small agricultural market and service centre, coming within the ambit of the capital, particularly following the construction of the railway from London to Cambridge via Bishop's Stortford in the 1840's. Of greatest individual interest are the items relating to the local architect, G. E. Pritchett, whose work included the striking church and school at High Wych. (Pritchett carried out work on other local churches, and material for this will be found in the Diocesan Records in Essex Record Office.)

A selective subject index to the correspondence has been drawn up to enable some of the more important items to be identified.

INTRODUCTION

The introduction to the first part of this list should be consulted for the general background to these papers and their listing. The second part of the list deals principally with specimens of items printed by the Observer office, such as posters and business stationery. Most of these are annotated with date, customer and quantity ordered. A few items, however, appear to be strays from the small Glasscock group deposited at the same time, and some may have been intended as copy for advertisements in the Observer.

Many of the posters are embrittled and very fragile, largely owing to the high acid content of their paper. However, a number of items are in fair to good condition and would furnish useful illustrations for local history publications.

Among the more important subjects covered in Part 2 are the following :

- Architects (esp.G.E.Pritchett) P1.55, 68-9; P2.7
- Harlow gas lighting inauguration P1.50; P2.96, 131, 135
- St.Mary's College, Harlow P1.54-5; P2.47, 66
