LEYTON LOCAL BOARD OF HEALTH

The parish of Leyton and the Leytonstone Special Drainage District together with the Walthamstow Slip, were created an Urban Sanitary District in 1873, the Parish Vestry having petitioned for the appointment of a Local Board under the Public Health Act of 1872. The Board had fifteen members and was also constituted a Burial Board in 1898 and an Electric Lighting Authority in 1894. Meetings were held in the Vestry Room until 1882 when offices were opened in the High Road (these became the public library after 1892 when new offices were built on an adjoining site.

The Wanstead Slip or Cann Hall district was added to Leyton Urban Sanitary District in 1875, though it became a separate Civil Parish in 1893 (see L 47.1 C 1).

By 1877 the Clerk to the Board became its Solicitor. The Surveyor had worked for Leyton Highways Board (see L 47.1 H 5). William Dawson's appointment as Surveyor in 1882 heralded a great expansion in municipal works and street improvements and in regulation of new building (see L 71.1 BC).

The Local Board was replaced by an Urban District Council under the Local Government Act 1894, but many records continued in the same volumes as before as the Board's staff were taken over by the Council.

The records were transferred from the former Leyton Town Clerks Department, some via Leyton Library.
