DAVENTRY

METHODIST CIRCUIT

816.2711 - -

INTRODUCTION

Wesleyan Methodism was first introduced into the Daventry area with the formation of a society in the village of Norton, about 1788. This was shortly followed by a Daventry society, in 1797, which met in a meeting house in New Street and later built the methodist chapel in Chapel Lane, 1801. This chapel was soon closed, to be used for a school, and a new chapel, in Cow Lane, was erected in 1824.

As Methodism spread throughout the locality, new chapels were erected in the villages of Braunston 1798, West Haddon 1810 (re-erected 1847), Weedon 1811, Norton 1818, Hellidon 1820, Watford 1842, Welton 1858 and Charwelton 1887.

These chapels joined the Rugby Circuit in 1806, to become the Daventry and Rugby Circuit which continued until 1860, when Rugby and some villages broke away to form a separate Rugby Circuit, the remainder forming the Daventry Circuit. This circuit consisted of chapels at Braunston, Charwelton, Daventry, Flecknoe (Warwickshire), West Haddon, Hellidon, Norton, Priors Marston (Warwickshire), Watford, Weedon, Welton and Willoughby (Warwickshire).

In 1931 the chapel at West Haddon was sold. This was followed by the closure of Charwelton in 1932 and later Welton 1950, Flecknoe, Hellidon and Watford 1966, Weedon 1970 and Priors Marston 1973.

The four chapels still left in the Daventry Circuit amalgamated with the larger Rugby Circuit in 1976 to form the Daventry and Rugby Circuit. This consisted of nineteen chapels, although those at Braunston, Norton and Willoughby have applied for sale.

Note: the current 1977 Daventry and Rugby Circuit consists of the chapels at Bilton, Bilton House, New Bilton, Braunston, Broadwell, Clifton, Daventry, Dunchurch, Grandborough, Lilbourne, Long Lawford, Lutterworth, Newbold, Paddox, Rugby Cambridge Street, Rugby Market Place, Rugby Wesley Road, Shawell and Stretton.
