68. 1904 ACCOUNT BOOK [Shop Y Rhyd], Talwrn.
69. 1906-1917 ACCOUNT BOOK: Shop y Rhyd, Talwrn. Contains loose lists of groceries required by customers and notes from customers asking for further supplies of groceries and giving reasons for their overdue accounts. One writer asks the shop keeper to give her son money to fetch a loaf from "Lleiniau" [another Talwrn shop] and include the cost of the loaf in the shop accounts. In another note the writer asks for jam explaining that she uses it instead of butter because butter is so dear. Another note contains a request for further credit and if the shopkeeper is not agreeable would he write it down for John [? her son] so that people don't hear. It appears that this book was originally used as an account book for a stone mason between 1896 and 1900. (defective).

769. ? 1905 PLAN of proposed two new houses. [Semidetached] for Mrs Jones, Rhyd [Talwrn] by Thomas Jones, Architect, Llangefni. [NOTE by depositor, August 1979; the houses were to be erected on the site of Pen Bont, next door to Rhyd. These houses were to be built for Elizabeth Jones who owned Shop y Rhyd and Pen y Bont, and were probably intended for her married son and daughter. However, she became ill shortly afterwards and died in 1908, and the houses were never built - fortunately for the amenities of the village, since they are town houses and unsuitable for the site].

14 Nodlyfrau a phapurau Edward Jones (1822 - 1900) o Nant Uchaf, Llaneugrad. Notebooks and papers of Edward Jones, Nant Uchaf, Llaneugrad.

1858 - 1890

Edward Jones was at various times a C.M. and an Independent. These notebooks contain "extempore" prayers, commentaries and notes on Biblical passages and draft of speeches, perhaps for use in Sunday School or Seiat. At this time he was a member of Soar Independent Chapel (Bryn-Teg), and there are accounts concerned with the building of the cemetery wall, towards the end of the bound note book.

Family tradition suggests that, although probably more intelligent and better educated than his brothers, he was a difficult man to get on with. He never married. He fancied his ability in legal matters, and is thought to have drawn up some family wills.

He was the cause of a quarrel in Capel Soar which ended in bloodshed, and the issue was taken to court, his faction being the winners. His enemies watched him carefully and eventually secured his appearance in court at Menai Bridge, for keeping a dog without a licence. The Magistrate said "Did you keep a dog without a licence?"

E.J. "No, Sir!"

- but when pressed, admitted that it was a bitch!

1882 April 18

PROBATE OF THE WILL (9 Sept. 1881), of John Pritchard Jones of Brynteg, pa., Llanfairmathafarneithaf co. Anglesea retired farmer. He appoints his brother Edward Jones of Nant Uchaf, pa. Llaneugrad, co. Anglesea, gent, Owen Elias of Glyn, pa. Llanfihangelterbeirdd, co. Anglesea, farmer, and John Owen of Ty Cydwys, pa. Llangoed, co. Anglesea, farmer, to be the executors and trustees of his will. He appoints his brother, Edward Jones, to be guardian of his infant child during her minority. He bequeaths all his moiety called Rhoshetter to his daughter Anne absolutely. He bequeaths all his real and personal estate unto his trustees upon trust that they shall convert into money such part of his estate that does not consist of money and shall out of this money pay his funeral expenses and invest the residue of the moneys in trust to his only daughter Anne on her attaining the age of 21 free from the control of any husband she may intermarry. If his daughter Anne should die in his lifetime or survive him and die under 21 then the residue shall remain in trust for the child or children of his daughter Anne who being male shall attain the age of 21 being female shall attain that age or marry under that age and if there shall be no such child, then in trust for his brother Edward Jones absolutely, and if Edward should die in his lifetime without lawful issue, him surviving, or before his daughter attains the age of 21, then in trust to divide between his nephew and niece, son and daughter of his brother William Jones of Nant Uchaf. He further declares that his trustees shall pay the annual income arising from the investments during the minority of his daughter towards her support and education as they think most advantageous and he further empowers them to apply any sum not exceeding £30 p.a. out of his estate towards augmenting the said annual income for education. He declares that if any of the trustees shall die or become incapable, then the surviving trustees or trustee or their executors or administrators shall appoint any trustee or trustees to such vacant trusteeship and to have the same powers as if originally appointed. He desires all property vested in him as trustee or mortgagee unto his trustees subject to the trusts and equities affecting the same.

796. 1889 Oct. 30

PROBATE OF THE WILL (15 March 1889) of William Jones, Shop y Rhyd, Llanddyfnan, Anglesea, shopkeeper. He bequeaths £100 to his son and the £100 to be paid to him when he shall be fully 18 years of age and if John dies before receiving the £100, the £100 are to be divided between his two daughters, Jane and Sarah Ann. He wills his wife Elizabeth Jones to keep Jane and Sarah Ann with food and clothing until they are able to keep themselves. He appoints Edward Jones, his brother; and John Jones, Garnedd, Llanfairmathafarneithaf Anglesea two trustees for his son John, and if either of the trustees die before the work is completed, he wills the other trustee to carry forward the work. He appoints Edward Jones, his brother, and Elizabeth Jones, his wife, joint executors of his will. He gives the rest of his personal property to his brother, Edward, and his wife, Elizabeth to be divided equally jointly between them, (translation from the Welsh).
