As a result of the fragmentary deposit of the collection the catalogue is mixed up to WM 1534/110 and has then been arranged by subject, some topics may be covered by more than one section.

- WM 1534/1 1862 March 3 LETTER: E [lin or lizabeth] Elias, Plas y Glynn, [Llanfwrog] to her uncle containing news of family and friends, including a cousin who kept a druggist shop at Bangor which failed.
- WM 1534/2 1883 May 25 LETTER: M.Jones, 58 Nelson St., ----- to Miss Elias informing her that she was recovering and going to Shropshire for convalescence. The writer longs for the recipient's buttermilk.
- WM 1534/3 1861-1864 BUNDLE of letters to Anne [Elias] from Mary Pritchard, Ty Gwyn, nr. Llangefni, Wasperton House, Warwick, Radnor Villa, South Field, Great Malvern and Plas Newydd, Bangor. The sender have been ? governess to the recipient and hopes she is learning good English. The sender then becomes companion to two old ladies in Warwick and accompanies them to London. The sender describes Warwick and says that she will be sorry to go back to Plas Newydd as it is so dull. They hope to arrange an exchange of photographs.
- WM 1534/4 [c.1860s-1880s] PHOTOGRAPH: Edward Elias, Glyn, Bodafon, (1800-1875).
- WM 1534/5 [c.1860s-1880s] PHOTOGRAPH: Elizabeth Elias (1820-1907).
- WM 1534/6 1868-1871 BUNDLE of letters from Edward Elias, Glyn, Bodafon to his daughter Anne who visited the Abbey. The sender tells the recipient that Dr.Lloyd had agreed to her trying Cae Coch waters. The cattle market was very slow. In another letter the sender reports that all the barley had been carried except for that at Cae gors which would not be ready for some days: All being well they would carry oats the next day. The recipient's mother had sent Ellen to Llnfihangel with butter for Anne Owen to sell at Llangefni. The sender talks about the harvest and states that Mr Davies, Llanerchymedd was starting the school on Monday.
1 letter in Welsh.
- WM 1534/7 [c.1880s] PHOTOGRAPH: John Elias, Glyn, Bodafon, (1858-1890).

In his first letter he explains that it was very difficult to get paper and appeals for socks, he asks her not to forget him at Christmas. He explains that his remittance would be sent to her and how he wishes her to use it, he asks that money sent to him be in postal orders. He thanks her for sending newspapers but asks for more and specified books, but especially for more letters. He describes articles in the newspapers which he particularly enjoyed. News of family and friends. He thanks her for sending items including razors and cigarettes. He complains of shortage of money. He sends her field cases and arranges for her to send him clean underclothes. He talks of wounded and gassed friends. He asks for full details of their father's death, and discusses problems about his property and Miss Williams including the house at Augusta Place and the Sailroom. His sister is obviously short of money and he keeps asking for more. He returns one shirt as they were only allowed one. He encloses [originally] a copy of Dick's lyric for the Eisteddfod although he did not think it was as good as last year's. Dick thinks this year's winner will be the Rev.Crwys Williams 'on account of his intimacy with the adjudicator'.

LETTER: Lydia Fox, 43 Brookfield Gardens, West Kirby to [?Mrs Jones, Glyn Derw] thanking her for the congratulations. They were married at 8.30 a.m. by their minister in the Welsh Chapel. They went to London and then Swansea for a few days to stay with her sister Bessie. Her sister Lily met them at Euston. She had known her husband for many years so they 'should be happy'. She says that Nan must be 8 and picking up English too and the sender asks that they ensure the children do not lose Welsh. Bessie insisted that her son Armel spoke Welsh although his father was a Breton. Armel was at the University in Swansea, age 19. Her brother Hughie's son was 16 and at Rydal, Colwyn Bay where his mother lives and tall and broad like his late father.

LETTER: Llewelyn and Luella [Owen], Mankato, Minnesota, U.S.A. to Mr and Mrs R.G.Jones, Glyn Derw asking for information about Harry Greenley who they had visited. Harry Greenley said he was very young when he left home to work in docks in Liverpool before coming to America with his brother Now. The senders asks for recollections of the school master and play mates and events that took place when they were together. Harry Greenley had retired since the Spring. The senders hope to visit the recipients soon, Luella still talks of the cat? ---. They had hoped to come next summer but Dylis and Hazel were coming there. There was a big crowd coming to the Eisteddfod according to the Drych. The weather had been very hot for the last month and the farmers were harvesting oats, barley, wheat and rye, the corn and soya beans would ripen in October. In 1894 there was a grass hopper pest.
In envelope without stamp.
Document defective: Holes.

CHRISTMAS CARD: Llewelyn and Luella [as above] personal news and mention of a high wind damaging sailing ships on the Straits.

WM/1534/524	1990s	EXTRACTS from Abstracts of Wills in the National Library of Wales for the Diocese of Bangor, 1635-1833. The fiches of the Abstracts used in the compilation of these are in the Anglesey County Record Office. The depositor has abstracted details for many Anglesey and Caernarvonshire families. They are arranged in alphabetical and date order using the first name order for the Welsh patronymic system (ap and verch). The details include the name, dates of will and probate and the names of legatees including their relationship to the testator. Cross checking is necessary as spellings vary. [For the original wills the fiches need to be checked for the National Library of Wales reference number before contacting the National Library of Wales].
